This chapter presents the conclusions and suggestions of translating “Understanding Family process” to those who will do translating.

4.1 Conclusion

The book is entitled “Understanding Family process” written by Carlfd B. Broderick tell about family systems theory is the basic theoretical model underlying most contemporary family therapy. This book explains how system theory gave rise to family system theory, outlines the basic propositions of family system, and like links it both to their family theory literature and clinical practice.

Translating “Understanding Family process” is not easy. The book could not be translated instantly many word hard to understanding. They need process, methods and strategies, culture even idiom including in thes book. So the meaning can be undertand for the readers.

So, we have to know about term and idiom from source language to translate will to target language, and many deleted words because the translator can fine the suitable meaning in target language.