Hasil bimbingan komunitas membawa hasil, yaitu terpelihara dan berkembangnya potensi remaja positif pada komunitas remaja masjid, semakin berkurang dan hilangnya komunitas juvenile deliquency. Akhirnya penelitian ini mendapatkan temuan baru, semakin besar pengaruh bimbingan komunitas remaja masjid, maka semakin mengecilkan pengaruh komunitas remaja deliquency di suatu wilayah.

ABSTRACT

Fathyah Zulva Fadillah Salma, Mosque Youth Community Guidance in Overcoming Juvenile Delinquency (Research in Mandalagiri Hamlet, Cisontrol Village, Rancabali District, Ciampar Regency)

Juvenile delinquency is a problem that is experienced by many regions. Not paying attention to this problem can be detrimental to the future of the region and future generations. This condition is experienced by Mandalagiri Hamlet, Cisontrol Village. Considering this condition, some teenagers took the initiative to gather in a mosque-based community. In order to save them from negative influences, and to overcome juvenile delinquency.

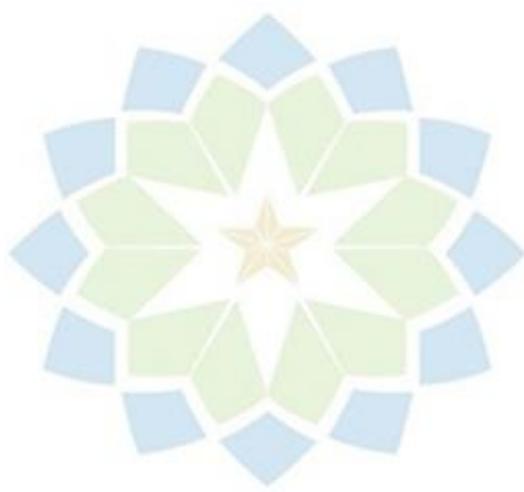

The purpose of the study was to determine the description of the condition of teenagers before the Nurhidayah Mosque Youth Association (IRMAN); to determine the types of mosque youth community guidance services (IRMAN) in overcoming juvenile delinquency; to determine the stages of mosque youth community guidance services (IRMAN) in overcoming juvenile delinquency; and to determine the results of mosque youth community guidance (IRMAN) in overcoming juvenile delinquency.

This study is based on the theory of community counseling services Lewis and Lewis (2010) which states that there are several types of community counseling services, namely direct community services, indirect community services, direct client services, indirect client services and drug emergency response programs. What is applied is indirect community services and indirect client services.

The method used is a case study with a qualitative approach. Data collection is carried out through interviews and documentation. Data sources were obtained from: IRMAN Supervisors and Directors, Alumni, IRMAN Administrators and Members and from Community Leaders.

The results of the study show that: First, the condition of Cisontrol teenagers before IRMAN existed, was divided into two communities, namely the negative community (juvenile delinquency) and the positive community. Both communities influence each other. Second, the types of community guidance services implemented by the Nurhidayah Mosque Youth Community are categorized into indirect community services and indirect client services. Third, the stages of the mosque youth community guidance service (IRMAN) go through several stages, namely: Observation stage, Program Preparation Stage, Program Implementation Stage, Program Supervision and Evaluation Stage. The results of community guidance yielded results, namely the maintenance and development of positive adolescent potential in the mosque youth community, the reduction and disappearance of the juvenile delinquency community. Finally, this study found new findings, the greater the influence of the mosque youth community guidance, the smaller the influence of the delinquency youth community in an area.
