The Great Mosque of Al-Imam with its magnificent appearance has characteristics in improving the quality of service to worshipers. One of the efforts is that the mosque can play a role as a central activity or center of religious activity as it happened during the time of the Prophet Muhammad SAW, throughout history that the mosque is the center of civilization, science and worship of Muslims. Mosque administrators are required to master and carry out good mosque management, in other words managing mosques that are correct and professional.

The purpose of this study (1) To find out the service program process for the management of the Great Al-Imam Mosque in improving the quality of the congregation so that it is effective and efficient, (2) To find out the implementation of the service program for the management of the Great Al-Imam Mosque in improving the quality of the congregation, (3) To find out the evaluation of the service program of the management of the Great Al-Imam Mosque in improving the quality of the congregation.

The theory used in this study is the theory of service quality, according to Zeithaml quoted by Hardiyansyah that a service can be measured from five dimensions, including: (1) Tangibles (Physical Evidence), (2) Reliability (Reliability), (3) Responsive ( Responsiveness), (4) Assurance (Assurance), (5) Empathy (Empathy). This study uses a descriptive method with a qualitative approach and techniques in collecting data through observation, interviews and document studies, as evidence of the optimization of the mosque's servant program in improving the quality of the congregation.

Based on the results of research, it can be concluded: First, the services of mosque administrators in scientific service programs and social services. Second, the implementation of mosque caretaker services in improving the quality of worshipers which is applied in physical evidence services, reliability services, responsiveness services, guarantee services and empathy services in scientific service programs and social services. Third, there are obstacles and challenges, namely the lack of consistency in the schedule of the dawn lectures and the congregation themselves are sometimes less active in utilizing the service programs provided by mosque administrators. This is used as material for evaluating DKM and mosque administrators by holding meetings in person or through social media.
