Abstract

This study aimed to explore the perceptions of ulama (Islamic scholars) regarding terrorism news in the Indonesian mass media. Employing a qualitative approach and descriptive method, data were collected through interviews with 25 ulama located in Jakarta, West Java, Central Java, North Sumatra, Padang, and West Kalimantan. The findings of this study revealed three significant perceptions among the ulama participants regarding the media coverage of terrorism in Indonesia. Firstly, they identified an unfair association between Islam and terrorism in the media coverage, expressing disagreement and concern over this portrayal. They emphasized that acts of terrorism should not be equated with the teachings of Islam. Secondly, the ulama perceived political, ideological, and economic motives behind the coverage of terrorism, suspecting specific agendas by Western or American entities. They also believed that economic interests influenced the media's emphasis on sensational aspects to attract viewers and generate advertising revenue. Thirdly, the ulama perceived negative repercussions for Islam due to the coverage of terrorism, including the potential tarnishing of Islam's image and the exacerbation of Islamophobic sentiments. This study provides additional insights and confirms previous research on the coverage of terrorism and Islam.

Manuscript - anonymous

Why two copies of my manuscript? The journal operates anonymous peer review, meaning your identity will not be revealed to peer reviewers. To do this we need a manuscript that doesn't contain anything that can identify you or your co-authors. To publish your manuscript as quickly as possible once accepted, we also need a version including contributor details. If your manuscript has been made available as a preprint we still require both files but we cannot guarantee anonymous peer review.

I confirm that all the research meets ethical guidelines and adheres to the legal requirements of the study country.

Human Participants

Taylor and Francis require authors of research involving human participants to adhere to the ICMJE guidelines on Protection of Research Participants, The Belmont Report, or the Declaration of Helsinki, as appropriate. Research involving human subjects must have obtained formal, prospective, approval from an independent ethics committee (e.g. an Institutional Review Board or Human Subjects Review Committee). If the requirement for approval was waived by the ethics committee this should be explained in the manuscript.

Dear Dr Darajat Wibawa,

Your manuscript, "Ulama and Terrorism In Media: Phenomenology Research About The Perceptions of Ulama to Terrorism News In Indonesia Mass Media" submitted to the Asian Journal of Communication, has been reviewed. The reviewers' comments are appended below.

After considering their comments, the Associate Editor and I are of the view that the manuscript would need some major revisions for further consideration. This is a "revise and resubmit." I invite you to take note of the reviewers' comments when you revise your manuscript.

When you revise your manuscript please highlight the changes you make in the manuscript by using the track changes mode in MS Word or by using bold or coloured text.

To submit a revision, go to <https://rp.tandfonline.com/submission/flow?submissionId=226395375&step=1>. If you decide to revise the work, please submit a list of changes or a rebuttal against each point which is being raised when you submit the revised manuscript.

You may likely wish to upload a separate document to enter your responses to the comments made by the reviewer(s). Please be as specific as possible in your response to the reviewer(s).

When responding to this decision letter, please do not use this space to document the changes you made, as reviewers are not able to view your response.

IMPORTANT: Your original files are available to you when you upload your revised manuscript. Please delete any redundant files before completing the submission.

Because we are trying to facilitate timely publication of manuscripts submitted to Asian Journal of Communication, your revised manuscript should be uploaded within 2 months. If you need more time, please let us know in advance or we may have to consider your paper as a new submission.

The topic is interesting and provides new approach in understanding perception.
But, please find review as follows:

- Convert passive voice to active voice. There is still confusion between tenses. The research has been done, but it reads as if it will be conducted.
- Abstract needs to be revised to provide conceptual framework. Method is qualitative and the approach should be descriptive.
- Need to make paragraphs with minimum 2 sentences, and same context to make it 2-5 sentences. For example, definition of Ulama
- Use the actual time. Not use: currently, not long ago, this era. Use for example: In 2019, digital era, reform period
- Delete sentences, such as: "The research on terrorism was carried out by Fajar
- Junaedi, Nunung Prajarto, and Adam W Sukarno". Directly make it into the paragraph and use it as reference.

Comments to the Author

This article has a good title but the discussion is not appropriate.

The way the article is written is not in accordance with the provisions and many parts of the article do not include supporting references.

The way of quoting from previous research is done haphazardly. The author also does not distinguish between research results and discussion. Informants in this study should be quoted more clearly in the research results and then discussed.

The titles in the bibliography still use Indonesian and there is not a single international scientific journal that is referenced.

Dear editors,

I am writing to inform you that I have made substantial revisions to the article in response to the feedback provided by the two reviewers. I have taken their suggestions into careful consideration and have incorporated additional literature from reputable international journals and key works pertaining to the study of media and terrorism.

One of the major changes I have implemented is the restructuring of the findings and discussion sections, separating them into distinct parts. Specifically, in the results section, I have rearticulated the research findings into three specific aspects.

Furthermore, I have taken the opportunity to rectify any grammatical errors present in the article and have aimed to enhance the overall clarity and coherence of the writing style.

I am now submitting the revised version of the article for your consideration. I sincerely hope that these revisions will meet your expectations.

And I will also inform you that I have submitted a revision of my paper.

Thank you for your time and attention.

Dear Pengya Ai,

thank you for reminding me about the submission. I have just submitted the final manuscript with the suggested changes. I submit the manuscript in step 1 of the submission steps. Yet, I also submit the manuscript in step 3 with the designation category: Anonymous. I made this since I could not generate the PDF viewer (I initially made the designation as "with authors' details).

Best regards,
Darajat

Dear Dr Darajat Wibawa,

We have completed the review process of your manuscript, "Ulama and Terrorism In Media: Phenomenology Research About The Perceptions of Ulama to Terrorism News In Indonesia Mass Media". I take pleasure to send you the reviewer comments, along with those of the editor who coordinated the review of your paper, below for your information. We have considered the comments from the reviewers and are pleased to accept your paper in its current form in the Asian Journal of Communication. Congratulations!

Your manuscript will now be forwarded to the publisher for copy editing and typesetting.

As part of our plan to promote your work, please send to orme a 280-character tweet and a blurb that will go into our AJC Facebook page. We would like your article to have a wider reach so do write a blurb that would appeal to the wider audience that comes to our Facebook page.

You will receive proofs for checking, and instructions for transfer of copyright in due course.

The publisher also requests that proofs are checked and returned within 48 hours of receipt.

Thank you for your contribution to the Asian Journal of Communication and we look forward to receiving further submissions from you.

Sincerely
Dr Peng Hwa Ang
Editor, Asian Journal of Communication
